

Watch Movements, Loose Pack & Pre-Sealed Descriptions

Loose Pack Movements

These movements have been supplied from the factory in non-sealed bulk packaging originally destined to be fitted to watch cases for the retail market. Whilst all will be complete and in working order, the lubrication may be subject to normal deterioration during transport and storage and may require some servicing prior to fitting.

ETA movements are generally supplied with standard height cannon & hour wheels, however this may vary with "Loose Pack".

Some watch movements have complicated functionality and procedures prior to start. Watchmakers must be aware prior to purchasing as this can be mistaken as the movement being faulty.

Swiss Sealed Pack Movements

These movements have been supplied in individual specially sealed packages designed to prevent any deterioration of lubricants and as such can be fitted directly without need of further lubrication or servicing, unless otherwise stated in the manufacturers data sheets.

Seiko Movements

Seiko do not supply new replacement movements, all Seiko movements are supplied refurbished by Seiko. Whilst all will be complete and in working order, they are not supplied in sealed packaging, subsequently the lubrication may be subject to normal deterioration during transport and storage and may require some servicing prior to fitting.

Alternative Replacements

Cousins reserve the rights to supply industry accepted suitable alternate replacement items where necessary and these alternative replacement items may be an exact physical replacement or in the case of some watch movements slight differences may exist for example, the dial feet positioning and hand sizes.
